To my Graduating Class,
May learning and Christian up-bumping stay with us for the rest of our thick & thin together just so each of us could go down that isle just one last time as a class. Good luck to all your endeavors and may all of you have the pride that was instilled in us at R.B. -12-19-81

12-19-81 : <sup>time</sup> 9:31

Looking back on my years at Bacon they were very, very educational. Even the things I thought we're stupid we're some how useful in that I understand and why they were done. I sure do miss R.B., but you can't ever go back in time, but you can apply what you were taught there to what ever you do now, and you know what..... those stupid things then sure make alot sense now.

GIRMANA

DEDICATION: Fr. John Bok, O.F.M.

One quality stands out above all others when we consider the years of service given to Roger Bacon by Fr. John Bok. That quality is dedication — dedication to religion, dedication to teaching, and, combining the two, dedication to Roger Bacon High School.

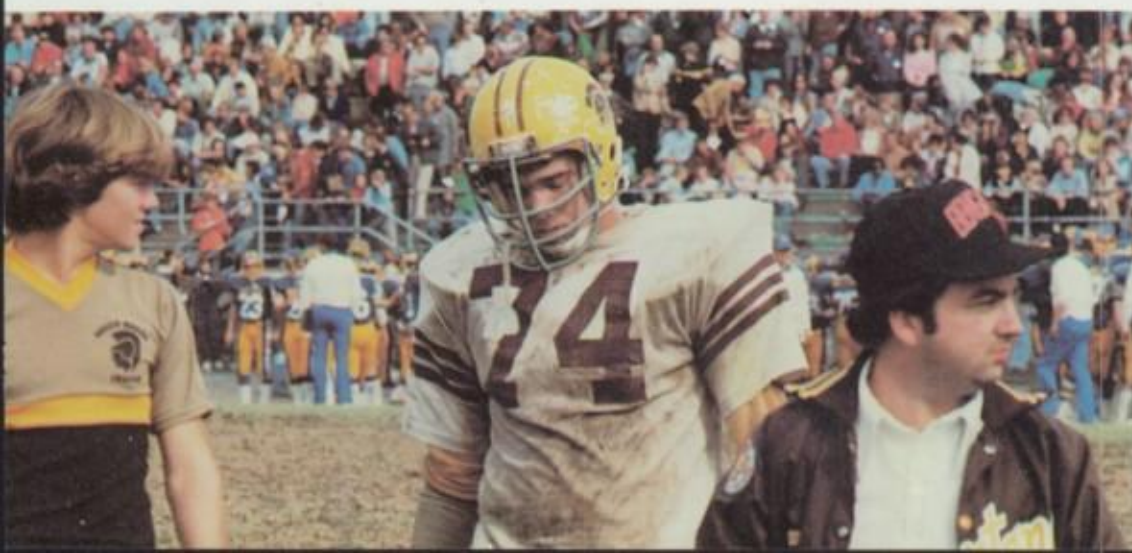

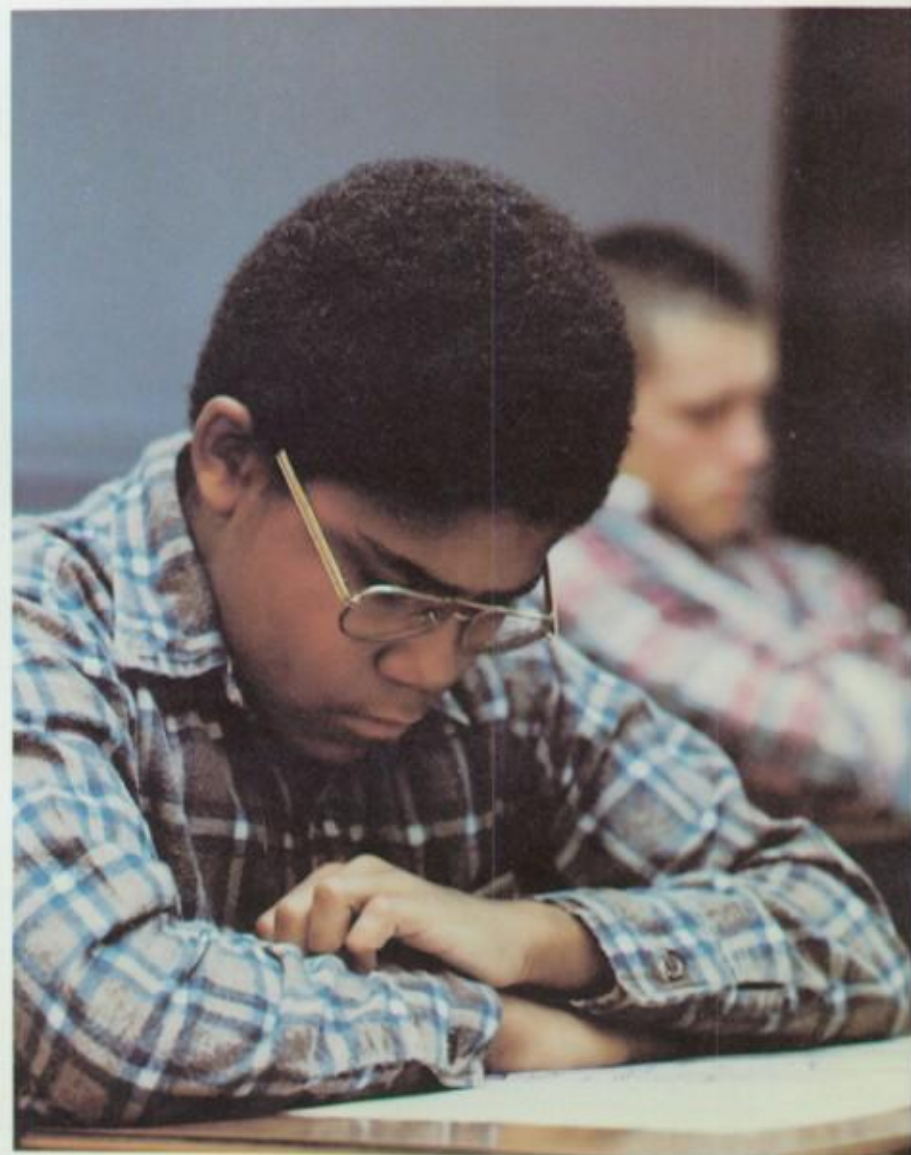

Throughout his life, Fr. John has given himself totally to Roger Bacon. He graduated from Bacon in 1953 and then returned as a science teacher in 1963 following his ordination as a Franciscan priest. He has served not only as teacher but also as Dean and, since 1972, as principal of his alma mater. Teaching has remained his first love, but in addition he has molded Roger Bacon into a high school we can all be proud of. Parents know that under Fr. John's supervision their sons will not only become well-educated but will graduate as sound Christian men with a strong sense of morality and of discipline. For these parents the financial sacrifice involved in giving their sons a Bacon education is money well-spent. Yet Fr. John has always strived to keep the cost of a Bacon education as low as possible while keeping Roger Bacon's standards high. Although Fr. John has made discipline a very important part of education at Roger Bacon, he has remained fair, earning the respect of faculty, students, and parents.

Because of Fr. John's leadership and dedication, Roger Bacon has survived a decade of economic and moral instability and has maintained an atmosphere of quality Catholic education. Because of his efforts, Roger Bacon still shines out as a symbol of education, discipline, and Christian ideas. Therefore, the yearbook staff is proud to dedicate the 1981 Troubadour to Fr. John P. Bok, who has dedicated his life to Roger Bacon High School.

THE BAND: Pride Of The Bacon Team

The largest visible sign of teamwork at Roger Bacon High School is really not an athletic group at all: it is the Roger Bacon Spartan Band. There are no second strings in band, no bench warmers. Everyone must pull his own weight; everyone performs. It is, in reality, one hundred individuals performing as one on the field. Under the superior leadership of band director, Mr. Wes Neal, "The Boss," the band maintains the highest standards of pride, togetherness, discipline, and team work. But the band team does not exist for its own sake. It supports the total Bacon team and is a proud member of that team, especially in its support of football, soccer, basketball, and drama. The band is a part of Roger Bacon that the entire student body takes pride in.

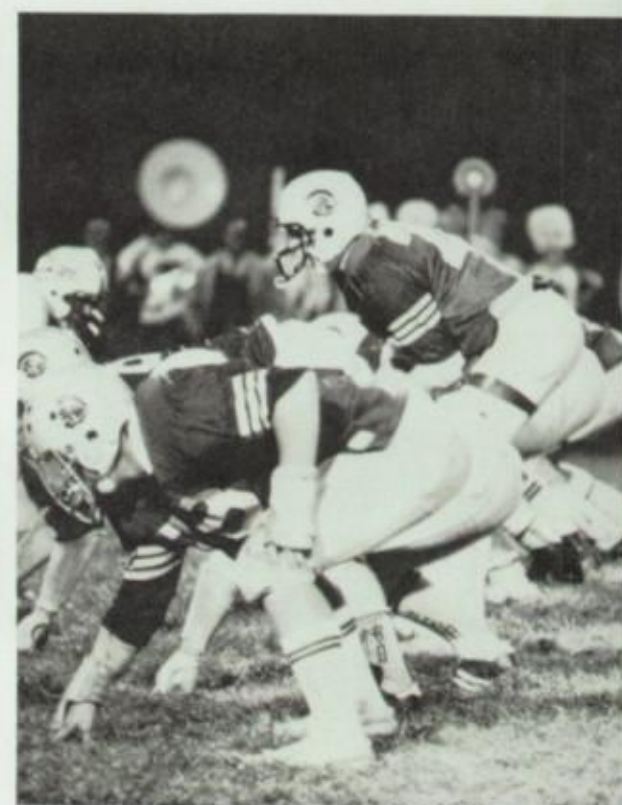

TRIUMPHANT is the best word to use in describing the 1980 Spartan Football Team. The Men of Brown and Gold truly exemplified a "never-say-die" attitude as they rallied from a 14-point deficit to upset a highly ranked Elder, and held state champion Moeller to just 3 points right up to the final minutes of the game. Because the Spartans gave all-out efforts when they were needed most, they shattered a pre-season poll that had placed them last in the G.C.L. Almost in revenge, the team turned the tables to land an undisputed second place in the Greater Cincinnati League and fourth place in the final city poll.

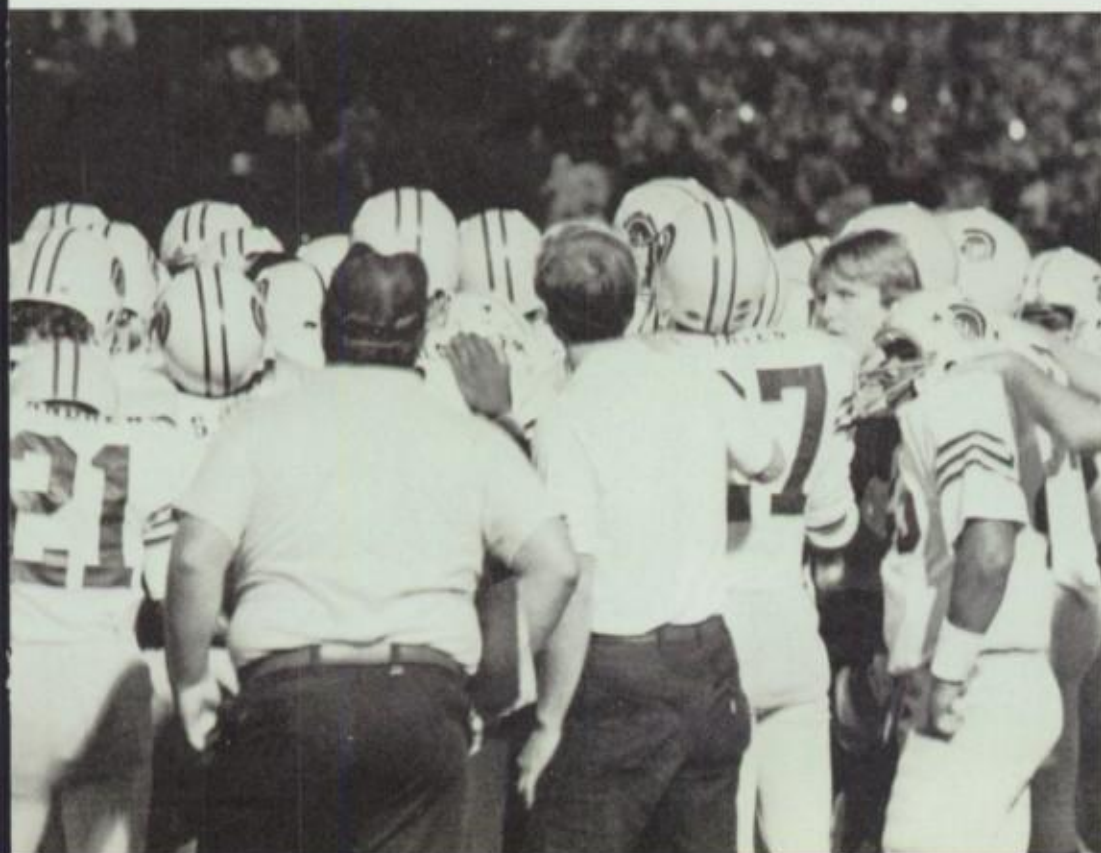

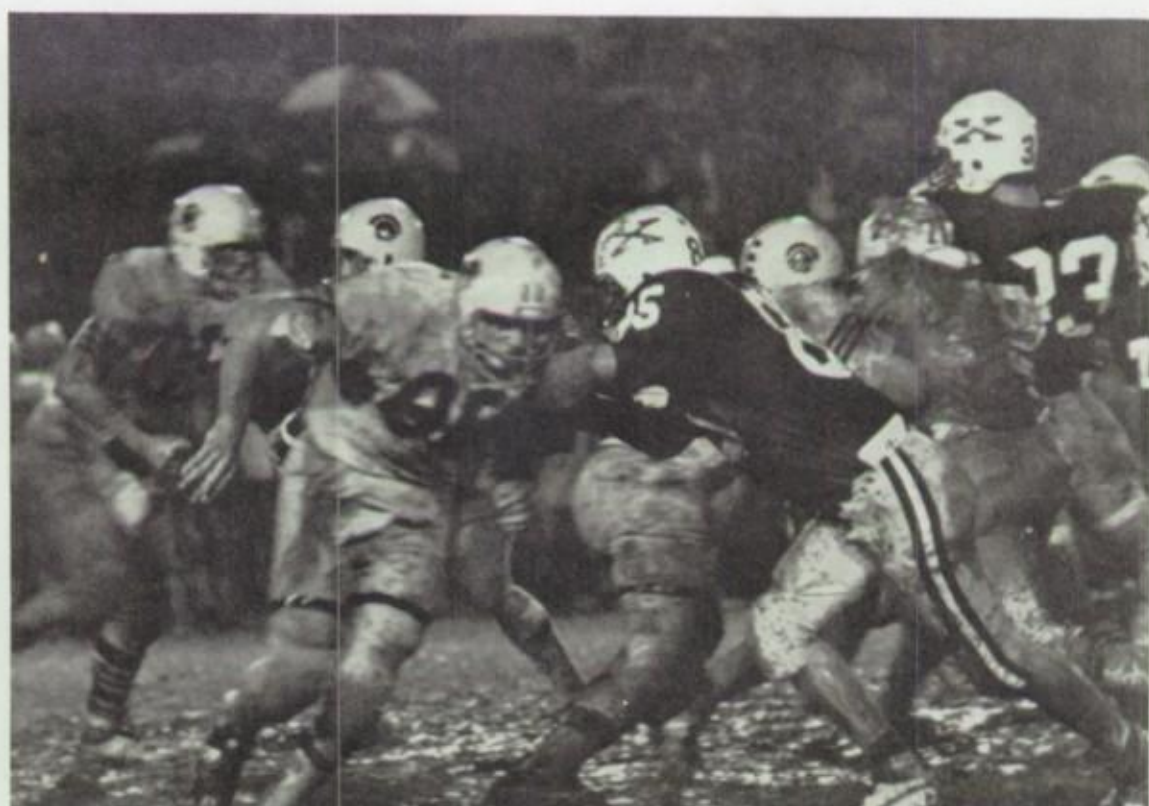

Senior leadership and depth of personnel were hallmarks of the 1980 team. The seniors showed a proud determination not only to improve themselves individually but also to improve the team as a whole. Depth was provided by juniors who were ready to play Spartan Football when called upon to do so.

The over-all quality of the team became even more evident when the G.C.L. All Star Team contained six Spartans on the first team and five on the second team. Especially impressive was the naming of Defensive End Ed Anton to State, District, and League All Star Teams.

CROSS COUNTRY

Years of preparing and building paid off this year when the 1980 Cross Country program produced one of Bacon's all-time great teams of runners. The varsity team finished second in the G.C.L., second in the Cincinnati AAA Sectionals, third in District, and 15th in the entire state of Ohio. The team captured first place in five of the seven major invitational. Had it not been for costly injuries, the Spartan harriers could easily have gone down as the best cross country team in Roger Bacon history.

Many individuals were recognized for outstanding performances during the season. Senior John Wiehe and juniors Doug Olberding and Bill Budke were all honored as prep Runners of the Week as well as being selected to the G.C.L. All Star Team along with juniors Mike Niesen and Eric Schneider, and sophomores Darrin Roll, Bill Shockley, and Mike Olberding. Considering the youth of the runners, the Spartan program should remain one of the strongest in the city for years to come, a credit to the hard work and training of Coach "Rocky" Feichtner.

SOCCER

The 1980 Spartan Soccer Team roared out of a highly spirited conditioning season ready to battle for the G.C.L. lead. However, after losses in the first two games of the season, it was evident that changes needed to be made. Coach Williamson switched the line-up and moved up two sophomores — Tom Eckart and Vic Ritze. Success resulted as the Spartan kicker went on a five-game winning streak. The Spartan finished the season with an 8-4-2 record — good enough for second place outstanding individual performances from Stan Scheidler, Rich Eckart, Tom Eckart, and Tom Froning, all of whom made the G.C.L. All Start Team. The team voted Tom Froning and Tom Eckart Most Valuable Players offensive and defensive, respectively. George Isfort earned the Most Improved honors. Tom Froning was voted first team, All City; Rich Eckart made second team All City. In addition, Tom Froning was awarded the G.C.L. Most Valuable Player Trophy and made the All State Team.

Spartans Finish 4th In ENQUIRER Prep Poll

Losing three starters from last year's team that made it to the sectional finals would seem to dictate a "rebuilding year" for Coach Callahan's Spartans. Much to the contrary, the '80-'81 Spartans formed themselves as a team slowly and steadily to post a fine overall record of 14 wins and 7 losses. Along the way to this successful season, the team placed 3rd in the McNicholas Turkey Tournament, won the championship in the Moeller Christmas Tournament, and placed 3rd in the final G.C.L. Standings.

There are many words that can be used to describe the effort this classy group of Spartans put forth: gusty, courageous, unselfish, compatible, skilled, hard-working, willing to sacrifice for a common goal, stubborn, determined, proud, just to name a few. In the end, their first class performance on and off the court was a proud reflection of their fine training at home and at Roger Bacon High School.

Beginning the season with a long series of "away" games, Bacon defeated a tough Viking team at PRINCETON, Mark Westerfeld leading the way with 18 points and 6 rebounds.

The Spartans faced the WOODWARD Bulldogs in the opening round of McNick's Turkey Tournament. Both teams played good defense, but the Bulldogs used their board strength to pull out a 58-50 win. Tony Hayden and Mark Westerfeld split 28 points as the team evened its record to 1-1. Playing for third place in the tournament, Bacon faced the host MCNICHOLAS Rockets. Tim Rizon displayed a super effort on defense as well as on offense as he sparked the team to victory 51-46. This extremely tough win helped mold the future character of the team, producing a stubborn determination to win, highlighted by intense defense and balanced team scoring. The tournament championship was won by the Walnut Hills Eagles, who defeated Woodward 54-52 in double overtime.

In the Bacon home opener, a young NORTH COLLEGE HILL team visited St. Bernard Gym and went back to the hilltop thoroughly whipped 83-51. All thirteen Spartans scored to blitz the Trojans.

Bacon's first league contest saw the Spartans facing the No. 1 rated ELDER Panthers. In what is fast becoming an annual classic, the Panthers nipped RB 47-46. Sparked by Jeff Asher's 14 points, the team rallied in the 4th quarter only to fall short before a capacity home crowd. Westerfeld added 11 points and 11 rebounds.

The Bacon student body became active members of the team in the next contest, against MOELLER. The loud cheering from the stands greatly helped the Spartans to beat Moeller, with Bruce Knolle and Greg Schildmeyer leading the way with 10 and 14 points each.

A visit to PURCELL produced Victory Number 5 as nine Spartans scored. Westerfeld had 18 points.

The Christmas Holidays saw Roger Bacon win the prestigious Moeller Christmas Classic by defeating the No. 3 ranked WITHROW Tigers 54-50 and the host MOELLER Crusaders 57-48. Balanced scoring and sticky defense produced these great results. Tony Hayden and Greg Schildmeyer were named to the All-Tourney Team.

Clutch free-throw shooting by Rizzo, Schildmeyer, and "Westy" were enough to down the AIKEN Falcons 62-58. Asher paced three other Spartans who scored in double figures.

Next, Bacon travelled to ELDER'S brand new "Pit" to face the G.C.L. league leader. The Spartans rose to the occasion to play their best game of the season, only to lose 60-58. Hayden and Knolle led the way with 19 and 18 points.

After this tough loss, the team rebounded to defeat LASALLE 45-43. Rizzo connected on 7 out of 9 free-throws to ice the victory.

Tony Hayden single handedly rallied the Spartans to a 53-52 victory over ST. XAVIER, described as one of the greatest come-from-behind victories in Roger Bacon history. Hayden scored 18 points in the 4th quarter and 24 points overall to produce Victory Number 10.

A visit to WITHROW followed the same script as RB used the free-throw line to overcome the talented Tigers: The team shot 21 out of 28 from the line. Double digit scorers were Tom Woodall, Hayden, and Schildmeyer.

Bacon nemesis WOODWARD defeated the Spartans for the second time in the season 49-48. Lack of rebounding and numerous turnovers proved costly. "Woody" had game honors with 16 points.

The next three games saw the Spartans flexing their muscles. The first victim was MOELLER, 74-54. Tony's "D" combined with the scoring of 11 Spartans to spell the victory. G.C.L. Opponent PURCELL visited Bacon on Parents' Night, which spurred the Spartan spirits to a 86-54 win. Again, 11 Spartans cracked the scoring column for the appreciative home fans. HAMILTON BADIN became RB's 14th victim in an 85-65 rout. This game saw Hayden deal and Schildmeyer score.

With a 14-4 record and a No. 2 rating in the city, the Spartans saw their hopes of a league championship smashed in an upset win by LASALLE. The Lancers used their height advantage to dominate Bacon 64-58. Hayden led a 4th quarter comeback to score 23 points.

Avenging an earlier loss, ST. XAVIER won by the same 53-52 score. The Spartans were perfect from the freethrow line but did not have enough inside power to shoot down the Bombers.

DISTRICT TOURNAMENT

After being seeded Number 3 in the Sectionals, Roger Bacon played the TAFT Senators in the opening game of the tournament. The Senators proved to be good shooters in a 57-55 win over the Spartans. Woodall led in scoring with 16 points. Schildmeyer and Westerfeld chipped in 10 points each while Hayden had a season's high of 12 assists. The loss ended Bacon's dream of a District Championship but not before it succeeded in producing a well-earned 14-7 record.

January 23 at Woodward: Another PHSL school takes the measure of the mini-Spartans. Breen scores 23; Hausfeld lost for the year with sprained ankle.

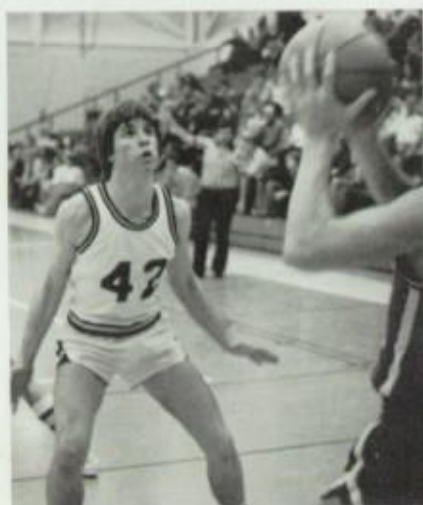

January 31, Moeller: A 32-point second half by the Spartans still falls short.

February 6, Purcell: Spartans lose 8th in a row and Breen too with a sprained ankle.

February 7, Badin: At last the drought ends! Jim Albrinck scores 18 points, and the Spartans pour in 32 points in the second half to beat the much bigger Rams.

February 13 (Friday) at LaSalle: Spartans hold Lancers to 10 points in the second half, but bad luck wins out; R.B. can't make up the first half deficit. Nevertheless, a good effort.

February 20, St. X: The Spartan "never say die" attitude surfaces as they scratch and claw their way to victory, with the help of Rich Sander's last second jump shot.

This year's freshman basketball team exhibited all of the qualities that will lead them to many victories in the years to come. The season began with a couple of tough losses to the first two G.C.L. opponents, but then began a string of victories through hard work and determination. The G.C.L. record finished at 5 wins and 5 losses, with two losses in the tournament that ended the season-losses by margins of one and two points. Next year's reserve season should provide much improvement and excitement.

WRESTLING

WRESTLING

The wrestlers of 1980-1981 produced a team dual record of 7-5 and one team championship, the Finneytown Invitational. The team members worked hard and improved steadily. Since 10 members of the starting team were juniors, prospects for an improved team next year seem promising.

Senior Charlie Epps led this team in statistics, while racking up 24 wins. Steve Gandy and Joe Dorr, team captains, produced excellent leadership. The year went quickly as the team members worked hard to achieve victory. In the final analysis, the greatest reward that the season held was the close friendships that developed between all of those involved in the program.

The team would like to thank all of those people who devoted much time and effort in order to make the wrestling team a successful activity. Special mention is deserved by Tom Ertel, who volunteered as the wrestlette counselor, by Jim Neumann, who volunteered as the Winter Sports Program coordinator, by Brother Mike, who helped keep the wrestlers fit by caring for their training needs, and finally by Mrs. Lynn Starkey, who worked in many capacities to help us. No amount of thanks could be too much for unselfish people.

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS

Steven M. Ballman, '81

Fr. John, guests, members of the faculty, family, friends, and fellow members of the class of '81:

Well, this is it. Today is the day that we have all been striving toward for the last four years. It's hard to believe that it was four years ago when we first entered this auditorium as lowly, confused freshmen. Back then our main concerns were trying to fit everything into our lockers, trying to get to our classes on time, trying to finish our lunches in ten minutes, and trying to find the secret doorway to the elevator.

But seriously, today is a major turning point in our lives. Now that we have finally mastered high school's many challenges, we are faced with new and greater challenges and are, once again, starting at the bottom. Those of us going on in our educations will meet some of the same challenges once again, while those pursuing careers will apply what we have learned in new experiences. But whether we are going to school next year or are going to work, we will be able to overcome the challenges that we face by applying the values that we have acquired here at Roger Bacon.

As we look back on some of the challenges of our high school careers, we can easily see the development of these values. For example, we learned the importance of study and preparation as we faced the challenge of passing a physics test; we learned the importance of persistence as we faced the challenge of making the Honor Roll; we learned the importance of setting a goal and having the endurance to reach that goal as we faced the challenge of staying on the Honor Roll for three quarters so that we could get invited to the Academic Awards Banquet.

These values are also evident in the many extra-curricular activities at Roger Bacon. Some in particular come to mind: the football and basketball teams which demonstrated the hardwork and determination of all Spartans as they exceeded the pre-season forecasts; the school plays which clearly showed the talents of the actors, but also showed the students' willingness to work hard behind the scenes; the band performances, which always demonstrated the importance of discipline and precision; and finally, the blood drives in which we demonstrated our selflessness and our willingness to give to others.

I think that we should thank our parents and our teachers for supporting us in these past challenges and for instilling in us the values which will allow us to succeed in future challenges.

Yes, we have changed during the past four years and so has Roger Bacon. Two of our teachers, Mr. Rieder and Mr. Meyer, died during our four years here; Fr. Jim has become dean and now principal; and Fr. John is moving on to new challenges of his own. Change itself is a challenge which we now have the values and the skills to face.

As we now go forth in our separate pursuits, we will always remember Roger Bacon and the values which we have learned here, and, in the true Spartan spirit, fight to be the best that we can be.

GRADUATION ADDRESS of Rev. Abert J. Bischoff, S.J.

Life has often been compared with a journey. One thing is certain: Each of us can point back to a time and place and say, "This is when and where my life began."

And if life can be described as a journey, it is also a gift. We do not choose life. Rather, life chooses us. If we embrace life and willingly enter into the mystery of living, then we truly are alive. We discover the vision of life as journey, exciting, and the experience of life as gift, freeing.

This evening you graduates receive a diploma which gives witness to a successful conclusion — a culmination of four years spent on the journey and the gift received of mind, of spirit and heart. Your possibilities have been revealed to you and your limitations pointed out. You have come to know yourself and to know others. In another sense, your graduation is a genesis, a new beginning. Fresh voices call you and new choices present themselves. Once more each of you has an opportunity to embrace life more deeply, more completely, more humanly. If you would answer a resounding yes to this invitation, then I would suggest that you will become more and more thankful for these past four years and be grateful to those who made them possible. A heart that is grateful is a heart that is free to live. You have not journeyed alone. You shared this time with family and friends, with administrators and faculty, with those who cared enough to love you, to correct you, and to challenge you. Here are the people who believe in you and trust that you can be for all of us — GOOD NEWS!

Become men of peace. The world violence which threatens to destroy us is violence that began in the broken heart of a man we call Adam and lives today in your heart and mine. The violent deaths of black children in Atlanta, of Catholics and Protestants in Northern Ireland, of Religious Women and simple farmers of El Salvador as well as the renewed arms build-up in our country and Russia is violence whose seeds had been planted in human hearts that are ruled by fear.

The only cure for a heart ruled by fear is the peace that the Lord gives to those who open their hearts to him in love, claim their personal sins, and beg forgiveness in a call for mercy and healing. The lust, the greed, the hate, the prejudice, the envy, the self-pity that is in my heart is in your hearts, too, for we are all the children of Adam. Before the world can live in peace and in the grace of God's life, we must ask forgiveness for our sins. We must admit that we are children of Adam before we can become children of a Heavenly Father.

To be a man of peace means to become patient with yourself and with those with whom you share life. Not one of us is perfect. You and I shall never be perfect, nor are we called to perfection. And for our imperfection, our weakness, our vulnerability, let us thank God and not curse ourselves. Our oneness in peace will grow as we bear patiently our own and each other's sins and learn to forgive ourselves and one another. Is not this the prayer of the Christian: "Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us"? Claim the pain in your own heart that you may be open to receive the pain in the hearts of those with whom you live.

Be passionate men. Give yourself to life and live it fully. See the possibilities for good where others see the opportunities for evil, and risk the possibility of being defeated by evil in order that good may triumph. Do not fear the struggle. Yes, you will make mistakes. Forgive yourself because all was forgiven long ago on a Cross. Forgive yourself and continue with the journey. Do not look back with regret; rather, look into the future with hope. Dream impossible dreams in order that the possible ones will become a reality. You will grow weary. That is all right because we all grow weary and must rest. To live passionately with life means that our eyes are focused upon the Cross, upon the carpenter's Son who taught us that life is not only worth living but it is also worth our dying, that life is gift and you and I are gift. Our eyes focused here reminds us that we are loved no matter what happens.

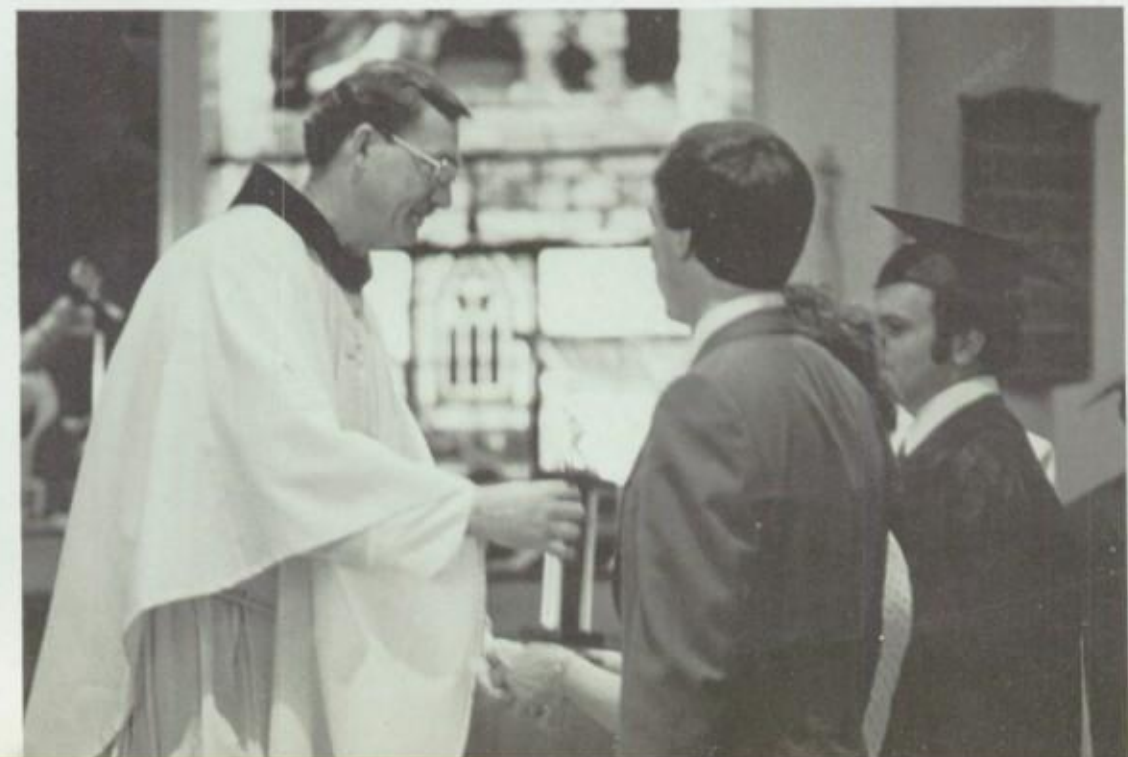

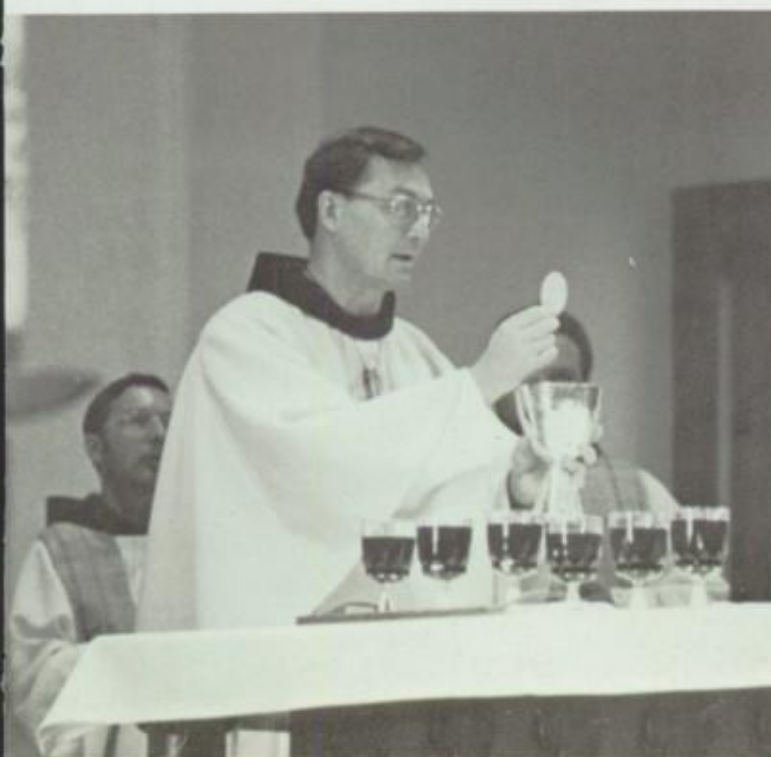

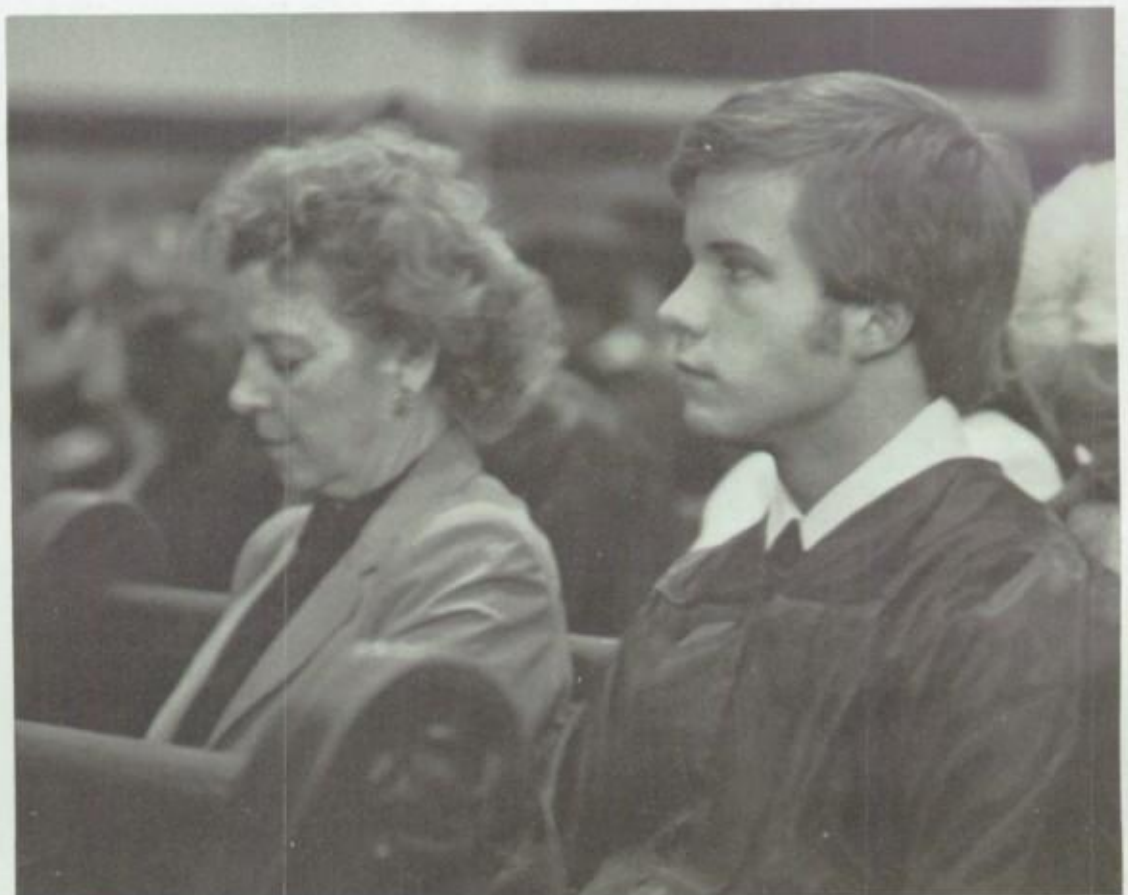

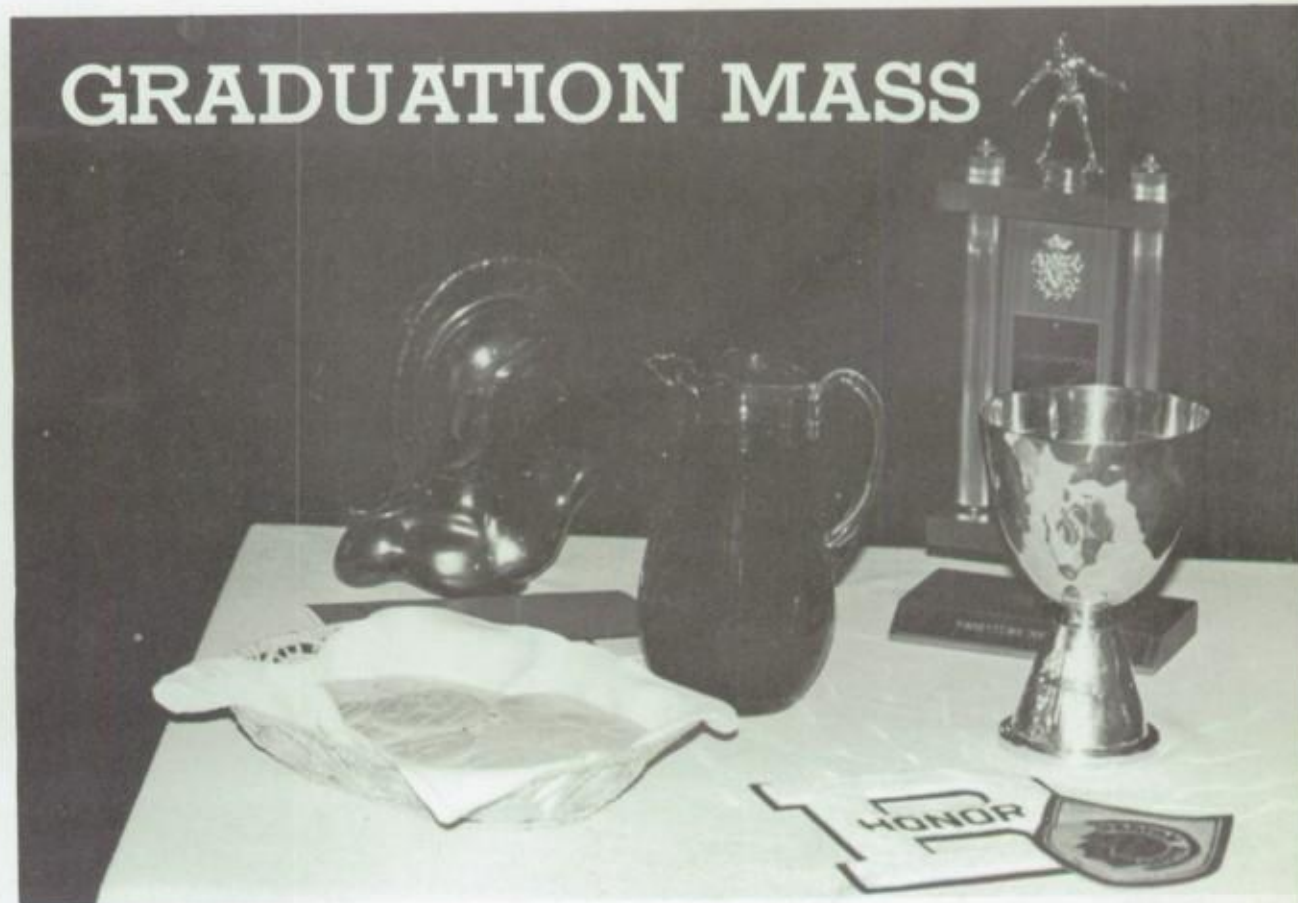

With this vision, the journey of life is pregnant with meaning. The gift of life becomes Hope, and the paradox of the Christian Gospel once more comes true: the unexpected occurs. Just as water flows from a rock and life comes from death, we can grow older and still become younger. The eyes may dim but the vision of life does not fade. Instead, that vision becomes more clear and even more colorful. Yes, indeed, the hair may turn gray and even fall out, but that is only because the head needs more room for beautiful dreams and exciting ideas. And if the body grows weak, the heart will grow strong in a commitment to love.

As you leave Roger Bacon this evening, I challenge you to live out your lives in Thankfulness. Become men dedicated to peace, daily growing in patience with yourself and with others. Become committed to giving the best. If you are willing to throw your selfishness away and face your fears, to claim the gift that you are, you will become wild men who love life and answer its call. In return, you will receive a fullness of love that will make faith a reality. You will find God because you will have allowed God, who is life, to discover you. Congratulations, Peace, and God bless you!
